EXPLANATION

These courses, Interdisciplinary Seminar and Law and Ethics for Health Care & Human Services, will benefit Ms. Farwell and the Department as they are part of the Bachelor's in Psychology with a concentration in Human Services degree that Ms. Farwell is pursuing. Many problems in today's society are complex with no simple method of solving them. It is therefore imperative for civic-minded people to explore issues from multiple viewpoints and frameworks. This Interdisciplinary Seminar analyzes specific themes as they relate to local or global communities while encouraging civil discourse among classmates. Ms. Farwell will use advanced problem-solving skills and methodologies to reflect on her topic, discuss possible approaches with peers, and investigate solutions using interdisciplinary research and analysis. Law and Ethics for Healthcare and Human Services will provide Ms. Farwell with a framework for working through increasingly complex legal and ethical issues that affect Health and Human Services professionals. This framework and broadened perspective will help practitioners recognize and respond to dilemmas in the field, and will familiarize them with how lawmakers confront changes brought on by pervasive issues such as patient rights, technological advances, and managed care.

Jody Farwell is currently an Administrator I for the Division of Medicaid Services. She has been employed by DHHS for fourteen (14) years. As a Division of Medicaid Services Administrator, Jody is responsible for the planning, coordinating and development of program objectives and policies, CMS rules and fiscal impact statements, forms, instructions and procedures used by staff in twenty-four (24) local offices to implement all programs offered by the Division of Medicaid Services.

The Department of Health and Human Services encourages and supports employees who wish to further their professional growth through continuing education in disciplines that are mutually advantageous. Successful completion of the program will also add to the overall strength of the Department to perform its mission to the residents of New Hampshire.

This course will not be taken on State time.
