EXPLANATION

This request is Sole Source because the Contractor is the only contractor able to provide the necessary services. The Biomedical Research Alliance of New York Institutional Review Board is currently providing oversight of one Institutional Review Board (IRB)-approved study for the Department, (the Evaluating Metals in private Wells and People for Exposure Reduction – Uranium or EMPoWER-U Study) and the Department's New Hampshire Biomonitoring Program, which is responsible for measuring environmental impacts on human health, is in the process of

His Excellency, Governor Christopher T. Sununu
and the Honorable Council

submitting materials for review for two additional studies. As active studies must remain under Institutional Review Board oversight per federal and grant regulations, continued contracted services with the Biomedical Research Alliance of New York Institutional Review Board is required for the continuity of operations.

The purpose of this request is to provide Institutional Review Board oversight and review of Division of Public Health Services' environmental and occupational health surveillance projects. Public participation in these projects is completely voluntary and the Institutional Review Board ensures that a neutral entity assures appropriate steps are taken to inform and protect participants.

An Institutional Review Board (IRB) is an organization that is formally designated and authorized by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Department of Health and Human Services to review, monitor, and approve biomedical and behavioral research involving human beings. Institutional Review Boards are responsible for critical oversight functions for research on human subjects that are scientific, ethical and regulatory. Institutional Review Board oversight is required for any biomedical and behavioral research conducted on human subjects. Institutional Review Boards are governed by Title 45 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) Part 46. The regulations implement provisions of the National Research Act of 1974. Institutional Review Board oversight is valid for one year and requires annual review of all applicable research programs implemented by the program.

The Division of Public Health Services has a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to expand laboratory capability and capacity for human biomonitoring in New Hampshire. Human biomonitoring is identifying chemical exposures in people by testing their clinical samples, which aids in investigations of environmental health concerns in New Hampshire. Critical activities include measuring contaminants of concern, such as arsenic and uranium in individuals who rely on private wells for drinking water, and determining baseline levels of multiple contaminants that may be associated with chronic disease. The data will assist in prioritizing public health interventions and allocating of resources while advancing the goals of the State Health Improvement Plan (SHIP).

The population to be served includes all residents of New Hampshire who choose to participate in these public health studies. Since these investigations include the collection of human clinical specimens, the projects must be reviewed by an independent institutional Review Board to ensure the protection of the rights and welfare of human research subjects, including that the confidentiality of personally identifiable information will be maintained throughout the project and thereafter.

Individuals are exposed to chemicals several ways: through their environment, food and beverages, consumer choices, recreational activities and occupation. Understanding these exposures on individual and population levels can inform important environmental health policy, evaluate public health interventions and form the basis of prevention and education strategies designed to reduce the risk to New Hampshire residents.

As referenced in Exhibit A, Revisions to Standard Agreement Provisions, Section 1.2, of the attached agreement, the parties have the option to extend the agreement for up to three (3) additional years, contingent upon satisfactory delivery of services, available funding, agreement of the parties and Governor and Council approval.

Should the Governor and Council not authorize this request to retain Institutional Review Board services as offered by Biomedical Research Alliance of New York, the Department would not be able to expand its testing capabilities and conduct these important environmental health investigations.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CERTIFICATION

1. By signing and submitting this proposal (contract), the prospective primary participant is providing the certification set out below.
2. The inability of a person to provide the certification required below will not necessarily result in denial of participation in this covered transaction. If necessary, the prospective participant shall submit an explanation of why it cannot provide the certification. The certification or explanation will be considered in connection with the NH Department of Health and Human Services' (DHHS) determination whether to enter into this transaction. However, failure of the prospective primary participant to furnish a certification or an explanation shall disqualify such person from participation in this transaction.
3. The certification in this clause is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when DHHS determined to enter into this transaction. If it is later determined that the prospective primary participant knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, DHHS may terminate this transaction for cause or default.
4. The prospective primary participant shall provide immediate written notice to the DHHS agency to whom this proposal (contract) is submitted if at any time the prospective primary participant learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.

The terms "covered transaction," "debarred," "suspended," "ineligible," "lower tier covered transaction," "participant," "person," "primary covered transaction," "principal," "proposal," and "voluntarily excluded," as used in this clause, have the meanings set out in the Definitions and Coverage sections of the rules implementing Executive Order 12549: 45 CFR Part 76. See the attached definitions.
6. The prospective primary participant agrees by submitting this proposal (contract) that, should the proposed covered transaction be entered into, it shall not knowingly enter into any lower tier covered transaction with a person who is debarred, suspended, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in this covered transaction, unless authorized by DHHS.
7. The prospective primary participant further agrees by submitting this proposal that it will include the clause titled "Certification Regarding Debarment, Suspension, Ineligibility and Voluntary Exclusion - Lower Tier Covered Transactions," provided by DHHS, without modification, in all lower tier covered transactions and in all solicitations for lower tier covered transactions.
8. A participant in a covered transaction may rely upon a certification of a prospective participant in a lower tier covered transaction that it is not debarred, suspended, ineligible, or involuntarily excluded from the covered transaction, unless it knows that the certification is erroneous. A participant may decide the method and frequency by which it determines the eligibility of its principals. Each participant may, but is not required to, check the Nonprocurement List (of excluded parties).
9. Nothing contained in the foregoing shall be construed to require establishment of a system of records in order to render in good faith the certification required by this clause. The knowledge and information of a participant is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.
