EXPLANATION

According to IDEA (34 CFR 300.322), each public agency must take steps to ensure that the parent of a student with a disability can participate in the special education process. The surrogate must participate in the special education process the same as a parent would and must be available for meetings and for providing consent. IDEA stipulates a set timeframe for various steps in the special education process, and these timelines cannot be extended or stopped because a parent is unavailable to participate. In the event that a child's parents are unable to be located, are unknown, the child is a ward of the state, a court has issued a written order for an educational surrogate parent, or a child is found to be homeless in accordance with the McKinney Vento Act, IDEA further calls for the appointment of a surrogate parent (34 CFR 300.519) to act as a parent for the child in the special education process. The appointment of an educational surrogate parent can terminate when the child turns 18, is otherwise adopted, or is discharged from the special education process. In some circumstances, a student may request that an educational surrogate parent be appointed past the age of 18 if the student continues to receive special education.

To abide by these requirements, the New Hampshire Department of Education (NHED maintains a network of volunteer educational surrogate parents, as well as contracted Master Educational Surrogate Parents (MESPs). MESPs complete similar work as volunteers; however, they are assigned a higher quantity of cases, typically with greater complexity, and have more experience in special education. Additionally, MESPs may coach or provide advice to volunteer educational surrogate parents and assist NHED in developing resources for volunteers.

All requests and application materials for educational surrogate parents undergo a referral process based on the Rules prescribed in the New Hampshire Standards for the Education of Children with Disabilities.

A Request for Proposals (RFP) was posted on the Department of Education and Department of Administrative Services websites on February 5, 2025. NHED received two (2) proposals from the issuance of this Request for Proposals "Master Educational Surrogate Parents".

A review committee consisting of 3 Education Consultants reviewed and scored the proposal. Ms. Vignola's proposal met the criteria of the Request for Proposals (Attachment A).

Ms. Vignola's contract is to provide services as a MESP. She has currently over 20 students on her caseload, some of which have requested that she remain appointed to them past the age of 18. This larger, older caseload, is coupled with the complexity of her cases requiring participation in multiple special education team meetings per school year.

NHED would like to contract with Ms. Vignola because she has served as a MESP for a total of 18 years, during which time she has been seen as an asset and essential team member by both the students that she serves, as well as the school districts she collaborates with to ensure that these vulnerable children receive a free appropriate public education. Additionally, Ms. Vignola developed a statewide training presentation for volunteer educational surrogate parents.

Respectfully submitted,

Frank Edelblut
Commissioner of Education
